The missionary’s pledge is made by the career / home-sent missionary in public to God who initiated the calling, with the commissioning church and other missionary supporters as the witness.

“I, _____ (name), by the witness of God, and the witness of the church who commissions me, hereby pledge my unwavering commitment to accept God’s specific calling for me as a long term career missionary (see Note A below). By His grace and power, I commit to serve Him faithfully in witnessing for Christ, leading others to Him, teaching others the ways of the Lord and making my best effort in building up His church in the specific mission field where He places me. “

Note A:

- “Long term career missionary” as defined in Section 7 of the Missions Policy.
- “Commitment” is defined as the willful binding act to the course of action and plan with a clear sense of obligation and responsibility that will be carried out with determination and full strength in clear conscience, putting this commitment above any other personal plan.
